Advertising Pays.

Saturday was another unusually busy day in Williamsport. A tribute to the value and efficacy of printer's ink in bringing people in to buy. The only mistake any merchant ever makes in his advertising orders is when he orders the printer to cut it out. A merchant once told the writer in response to a query as to why he carried a large ad. all the time, and a much larger one now and then.

"I carry an ad. every week because somebody every week reads my ad. for the first time—somebody who has not heretofore noticed my ad. or who has not heretofore read the paper in which I advertise. I carry a large one because when a person sees a large ad. he concludes that it is the announcement of a large store—a big stock of goods to select from. When I have a special announcement to make I use more space, because it is worth it. If I should discontinue my advertising I should continue to have a good trade for some time from my old customers, but I'd get no new ones! I consider persistent and regular advertising of more value to a merchant than the same amount of money spent in fitful and irregular spots."

The business of the merchant quoted bore him out in his statement and the growth of his business demonstrated the truth of his theory.—Williamsport, Ill. Review.

Mourning Bride thinks she has Hard-scrabble on a snag on that question as to where Job was. Gen. 2:1 says God created the heavens and the earth and all the host of them so I think Job must be in that number. Now as to Cain marrying his sister. It is not true, for it was about 930 years before any girls were born to Adam. Read Gen. 4:13-17, and you will find Cain was afraid of some one killing him and the 25th verse says a son was born which is the third child that we have any account of, and this took place about 130 years after Cain and Abel were born. Gen. 5:3 And the days of Adam after he had begotten Seth were 800 years, and he begat sons and daughters. Now Mourning Bride this is beautiful, a man marrying a woman 930 years before she is born. I am sorry for Mourning Bride that she made such a blunder as she did. As I said before, Cain was afraid some one would kill him so the Lord put a mark on him to prevent it, and God told Cain he would take vengeance on whosoever killed him sevenfold, plainly proving that there was a nation of people over there in the land of Nod where Cain found his wife, and it was not his sister either. Now, Mourning Bride, I will answer that question who was the father of Zebadiah's children by asking you one. Who was the father of H. Hancock's children? When you answer that you will find the answer you ask for.

Now, Mourning Bride, I will give you two puzzles. What river in South America is the headwaters of two large rivers, and where is John, the Revelator, and what became of him? Give chapter and verse.

Will now tell Dulcinea how many geese A had. It was 39. Looks like any goose could answer that.

Hardscrabble while in town some days ago picked up a suit of clothes and it cost him $8 for being too light fingered. He was looking for it to turn cold again.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Well, Mr. Editor, I would like to have a little space in your paper.

Our boarding mistress has been sick for a few days but is better now and able to do her work.

Work is not much good out here, and we are only getting about half time.

Well E. G. I see that Nip & Tuck differs with you about the men leaving Whitwell.

Sam Johnson and I and Joe Arledge all went to town Thursday and Joe said he had quit drinking anything stronger than a little gin, but he took a few drinks with us and we got lost from him. He came to the boarding house next morning and said he was not going to drink any more gin as it would make a man drunk. He is only going to drink a little wine the next time he goes to town.

I hope to see the time when old Whitwell will be working union men again and the boys can meet once more and have a good old handshake and meet in their churches and lodges and be again like brothers.

I like to read a letter from Whitwell every week as I have got an old hen and some little chickens in Whitwell, and I wish them all good luck. B. A. A.

Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to be awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Backache, Worry, Fretfulness, Irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity.

Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up to have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby girl was sent away, and all efforts failed. Because he could not stand a bit of talking, I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nervine saved his life."—MRS. A. G. HASKIN, Freeville, N. Y.
